No Rain for Fourteen Years.

"The most pare hed country in the world is located on the west coast of South America." said Captain Reid, master of the British steamship Auchenerag which arrived at Thompson's Point, Philadelphia, from Iquique and Taetal, with a cargo of nitrate of soda for the DuPont nitroglycerine works at Gibbsboro. When the Anchenerag lett Iquique it had not rained for for teen years, although the tops of the Andes were at times snow-capped. The houses, as a rule, have no roofs, and a German firm that sent a shipmen of umbrellas to Taetel would have me with a total loss had not an enterprising local dealer remarked the invoice parasels. The deposits of nitrate of soda are the principal wealth of the country, and they have paid the debt of Chile several times, as it is the only part of the world where the mineral is found.—Philadelphia Ledger.
